FOR POOL ROOM LOSSES

PROSECUTOR WILTSIE SUES IN BE-HALF OF G. W. ELLIOTT'S WIFE.

The Husband Lost $2,378 in the Tron Place-Action Taken Under an Old Statute.

Yesterday Prosecuting Attorney Charles S Wiltsie brought suit in the name of the State on relation of himself to recover $2,375 that was lost by George W. Elliott in the poolroom that was formerly operated in the rear of William Tron's saloon on North Illinois street. The suit is brought to recover the money for Bertie Elliott, wife of the man who lost it, and is under an old statute that few lawyers know to be on the books of the State. This statute gives a man who loses money by gambling the right to recover from the winner, and after the expiration of six months from the time the money was lost, it makes it the duty of the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the loss occurred to bring suit in his own name for the recovery of the money for wife or minor children of the loser, or in case there is neither wife nor children, then on behalf of the school fund of the State. The suit was filed by attorneys Noel and Lahr, counsel for Mr. Wilt-

Probate Affairs.

The will of the late John Newlin was probated yesterday. He left his wife, Sarah the rate of $250 a year. The balance of the estate was to be divided equally between Thomas, Emma Lancaster, Sarah H. Hodgin and the heirs of Phoebe Ellen Saunders, Charles and Jehu D. Saunders. The will of Lida S. Euler was also ad mitted to probate. She provided that her husband, Frank P. Euler, should have all the rents and profits of all her real and personal property. After his death the property is to be divided between their surviving children, whom the father is to clothe, care for and educate during their Margaret B. Schmid was appointed guar-

General Harrison's Petition Granted. The United States Court yesterday issued | marked: an order granting the petition of Benjamin Harrison, as trustee of the Terre Haute & Logansport Railroad Company, asking that the receiver of the Terre Haute & Indianapolis Railroad be directed to deposit with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, in New York, a sum sufficient, in addition to $11,400 now on deposit, to pay the $15,000 of coupons on the bonds secured by the mortgage on the Terre Haute & Logansport road.

In granting the petition, the court dered the receiver, out of the funds in his hands derived from the operation of the Terre Haute & Logansport road, to make the deposit asked, to the fund designated by the receiver as the Logansport fund. The United States Court dismissed the case of J. M. Fishback against Robert Bassett. The case was one concerning a patent on augurs for boring wells. The plaintiff claimed an infringement of his patent.

They Had Sold Him the Saloon. Yesterday Judge Harvey found for the defendant in the damage cases of Theresa Wilhelm and Elizabeth Steep against Horace Henn. These suits were brought to collect damages from Henn for depreciation of the value of plaintiff's property on account of the saloon owned by Henn in an adjoining room. It was shown in the trial the plaintiff Steep and her husband had formerly owned the saloon and sold it to Henn, and that the other plaintiff is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Steep. The case of Agnes Divine against James Duffy for damages for the same cause was also dismissed. A similar suit with the same parties was dismissed in Room 3 Failed to Pay for the Ticket.

YESTERDAY SPENT ON SECOND READINGS OF MINOR MEASURES.

Partition Fence Bill Killed-Patronage Troubles-The Governor's Care-Prison Trip.

The House remained in session all day yesterday, though the Senate was not doing business. The whole day was spent upon second readings and busines of a minor nature, the most important event being the killing of a radical partition fence

After spending half an hour upon a question of patronage involved in a resolution to appoint two or more enrolling clerks, the House resumed the introduction of bills, and Mr. Williams introduced a measure cutting down the special tax granted two yers ago to educational institutions putting the benevolent institutions upon a special tax basis. Mr. Butler introduced a bill for a waterways commission and Mr. Peckenpaugh banded up a measure providing for a salary instead of per diem for county commissioners in counties of from 50,000 to 100,000 population.

When second readings were taken up Mr. Ross's bill for the protection of hotels and boarding houses from "dead beats" was handed down and sundry amendments were offered. Among them was one by Mr. Sutton, providing that the protection be extended only to such hotels as use the English language on their bills of fare. He objected to having his goose liver called 'pate de foie gras." Quincy Adams Blankenship took occasion to work in an advertisement for Martinsville by inviting the House to go down there or. Sunday and eat a square meal and take a bath in the celebrated Martinsville water. The House unanimously sat upon him ostensibly for using the floor of the House for advertising | For Men's All-Wool Shirts and Drawers purposes. The House did not take kindly | worth 75c, $1 and $1.50. The second reading progressed without incident until the partition fence bill, inmise from the Pennsylvania Railroad Com- | troduced by Mr. James, was handed down, pany. Mr. Sutton pleaded for the bill on the ground that there was no statute concerning line fences since the Supreme Court last April overthrew the law of 1891. Mr. Canada, who was one of the attorneys in that case, corrected his statement, show-W. Newlin, a legacy of $2,000, payable at | ing that the overthrow of this law revived the previous statute. When it came to a vote the bill was killed by a heavy majority. An effort was made to adjourn Paris H. Newlin, Ruth Andrews, Julia A. over until Monday, but it was voted down.

Thomas Emma Lancaster Sarah H. Hod- The bill of Mr. Reynolds providing that instead of furnishing supplies to ablebodied paupers the township trustee shall give them employment at wages not to ex-ceed one-half the market price of labor was handed down for second reading with a committee amendment providing that he should be paid in orders. Mr. Butler offered an amendment making it threefourths instead of half wages. Mr. Eichhorn wanted it to be full wages and Mr. Hart supported him and offered an amendment to that effect. Both were lost. Other amendments were killed off and Mr. Barlow made a motion to strike out the enacting clause. Mr. Stetler, who has had long experience as a township trustee, said he believed the bill would cause a rush for township work. This bill, requiring the trustee to give them work, would swamp the township. Mr. Reynolds was throwing out signals of distress and the speaker re-

> "If the gentleman from Wayne will address the chair instead of making signs, I can understand him better." Thereupon Mr. Reynolds entered upon a defense of his measure, making a strong speech on the theme of giving the applicant for aid some reason to believe that he was earning the wages given him. Mr. Smith and Mr. Blankenship opposed bill. The motion to kill the bill was lost by a close vote and the bill was recommitted.

> Upon the order of committee reports the judiciary committee put in a big batch. Among them were the two House bills vetoed by Governor Matthews after the close of the last session. The committee recommended that one of these, the Moon bill, providing for alumnal representation upon the boards of the State educational institutions be killed and the House concurred. It recommended the passage of the Mc-Intosh bill, concerning decedents' estates and this was made a special order for next Wednesday. Among the bills killed by the committee were: H. B. 423, by Schoonover, concerning roads; H. B. 414, by East, permitting notaries public to solemnize marriages; H. B. 143, by Blankenship, holding telephone and telegraph companies responsible for the acts of their operators; H. B. 57, by Downey, an apti-trust bill; H. B. 69, by Sutton, another anti-trust bill; H. B. 412, by Titus, amending the forgery statute, and H. B. 394, by Medsker, for the purchase of the Carthage turnpike. On this latter bill the House did not concur. Among the bills recommended for passage by the committee were none of large importance. The committee on roads killed off a number of minor amendments offered to the road Smith and Goddard.

The committee on labor recommended favorably the bill of Mr. Jernegan, to regulate child and female labor in factories, The bill was prepared by the legislative | Unstinted Praise for the Management Gold, the man who procured a rall- | con.mittee of the State Labor Federation and has been very generally indorsed by labor unions throughout the State. WATCHED WITH CARE.

Governor Mount's Method of Scrutinizing Bills. An instance illustrating the carefulness olution of Mr. Linck, adopted on Friday, for two additional men on the force of the assistant clerk. One of these is J. F. Salyers, of Madison, and the other has not been appointed. Mr. Nicholson, who had the promise of getting a man on the clerk's force during the latter half of the session, and failed to get it, yesterday introduced a resolution for the appointment of two more enrolling clerks, and it caused a heap of discussion, in the course of which the Hon. Gabriel Jones declared that if he could get his man appointed he would vote for the increase; otherwise, nay. Gabriel's man was Don Wells, and Mr. Jones declared that Wells was given a flat promise by the clerk that he should have a place during the latter half of the session. After a whole lot of discussion the Nicholson resolution was In the afternoon Mr. Thomas offered a resolution for a committee of three to investigate the necessity for additional help on the clerical force. Mr. Smith moved to defer action upon it until Monday, but it was not deferred. Mr. Shideler said the business-like way was to appoint the committee and settle it once for all, and the resolution was adopted. The committee as appointed consists of Messrs. Nicholson, of Warden Hert. Members of the Senate and House committees that went to Jeffersonville to visit the Prison South returned last night, and the remaining members of the committees will come back to-day. The committee is enthusiastic in its praise of the prison, of them dating back as far as 1840, which are sadly in need of renovation or replacement. The sanitary conditions are unusually favorable and the discipline has never before reached so high a standard. The grading system which Warden Hert intro- | nephew of Harry Vaughn, of Cincinnati, duced has already worked wonders in the general conduct of the prisoners. As certain privileges are allowed with the highest grade there is a striving among the convicts to reach it by exemplary conduct, in order that their lot may be the easier, The members of the committee speak in very complimentary terms of Warden Hart and Assistant Warden Garland. Members of the committee say that William Kennedy, the man who was sent up for life from Greensburg for murder, can live a little while longer, as pulmonary trouble has made him but a shadow of his former self. There has always been a strong doubt in the public mind as to the guilt of Kennedy, and many prominent men who have investigated his case believe that his confinement is one of the most flagrant cases of injustice in the annals of criminal history in Indiana.

PRISON SOUTH COMMITTEE.

BUILDING AND LOAN.

The Bill Will Be Introduced Early This Week. There was a further conference of the building and loan committee yesterday morning. Senator La Follette, chairman of none to settle on the floor of the Senate. In the end business is expedited by this course. Senator La Follette said yesterday that in all probability the bill introduced would be known as the McCord bill, although it would be a modified form of the original bill introduced by Senator McCord, who says that his bill is practically the same as that he introduced two years ago and against which there was such a strong fight. Senator La Follette expressed the belief that the bill would be agreed on and submitted early this week. The vital features of the bill were published yesterday. It is now being drafted, but before it is presented it will be passed upon by the joint committee. It will probably be substituted simultaneously in the Senate and

THE MEN THAT INDIANAPOLIS NOW HAS UNDER ITS CONTROL. Probable Make-Up of the Club from This Two Dozen-Western League

Strengthened.

The Indianapolis Baseball Club of the Western League is beginning to shape itself for the season of 1897, and the roster of players under the control of the club is beginning to assume considerable size. Almost an even two dozen men have strings attached to them, and they may be yanked into Indianapolis uniforms, just as Manager Watkins may see fit in making up the composition of his team when the season opens. Of last year's team the following are still under the control of the club; Pitchers Phillips, Davies, Monroe, Cross, Weimer and Nepper, Catcher Wood, First Baseman Motz. Second Baseman Stewart, Shortstop Sheibeck, Left Fielder McCarty, Center Fielder Hogan, Right Fielder Hogriever and Fielder Flynn. The new men that have been purchased and traded for are Out Fielder McFarland, Shortstop Eustis, from Louisville; Pitcher Foreman, Third Baseman Gray and Catcher Kahoe, from Cincinnatic Pitcher Jot Goar, of Pittsburg and Pitcher Walters, from Grand Rapids. The young men signed by the team are Infielder Cockman, of Roanoke, Va.; Third Baseman Samuels, formerly with the St. Louis Browns; Infielder Woodruff, a and whom Vaughn claims is a second Mc-Graw, and Infielder Perry, of Cincinnati, and Outfielder Jackson, who was signed in Chicago, having led the Chicago City League in hitting. The probable makeup of the team from this material, as the situation is now sized up, would be indicated as follows: Catchers, Kahoe and Woods; pitchers, Phillips, Foreman, Goar and Walters or Davis; first stop, Eustis; third base, Gray; left field, McCarty or Flynn: center " 1. Hogan or McFarland; right field, Hog or or Jackson. The players who have sned contracts with the club are ps, Goar, Motz, Hogan, McFarland, C. nan, Sam-uels, Flynn, Jackson and kahoe. The makeup of the team seems to be a very strong one, and one that will compete easily with any thing that can be made up in any other Western League city. The management regards it as the strongest team fered to the amusement-loving public of Indianapolis since a Western League club was put in here. Manager Watkins, in discussing Western League prospects for the coming season, said he thought the league as a whole is a much stronger organization than ever be-Kansas City has strengthened unusually in all departments, and Manning is evidently trying to fulfil his promise to his patrons that he would give them a winning team. Milwaukee, under Connie Mack, has made more improvements at all corners than any other team in the league with the exception of Kansas City. Minneapolis and St. Paul will also be strong, having added new material which will help matters out up that way. Detroit, in Manager Watkins's estimation, will about hold its ground of last year. Columbus and Grand Rapids, while uncertain, have both added some fine players, and will be quantities in the championship race. Mr. Watkins cannot estimate the strength of these two teams until he learns more of their makeup. As to his own team, he is unwilling to be quoted, although he is confident the boys will give a good account of themselves in
